THIS WEEK'S THEATRICAL ATTRACTIONS

GRAND, BEGINNING

TO-MORROW NIGHT. ONE WEEK ONLY TO-MORROW NIGHT. LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S MATINEES WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY.

First appearance in Indianapolis of the tamous Dwarf Actors, supported by an Excellent Company of Eighty Artists

LILIPUTIANS

MAGIC" MANY LODGE, NO. 18,

MAGNIFICENT SCENERY. TWO GRAND BALLETS. BEAUTIFUL COSTUMES. GREATEST NOVELTY ON STAGE.

PRICES, Matinee and Evening-Gallery, 25c; Balcony, 50c; Orchestra Circle, 75c; Orchestra and Boxes, $1.

at English's-Dull Outlook in London.

The Grand will have a very nevel attraction to-morrow night and all this week, in "The Liliputans," a European comedy and Thursday Go-Won-Go-Mohawk, the only burlesque company, composed of ten clever | Indian actress on the stage (there are a midgets, and eighty adults supporting good many "Injune" in the business, howthem. In "The Pupil in Magic," a grand spectacular comedy, they made a signal Indian Mail-carrier." It will probably success at Niblo's Theater and the Metropolitan Opera-house, in New York. For Western border drams of the most sensanearly 150 nights the delightful little peo- tional kind. Mrs. Mohawk, as she is called rle pleased the public, and so popular they for short, is well educated, and has had became on the instant that from the first night they always played to overflowing audiences. The New York critics found it difficult to find suitable words to express the praise they wanted to give the players from Liliput. The tiny comedians are not hildren. They are adults in years, their ages ranging from eighteen to forty-three, and many of them have been for a long time identified with the stage. d. The tallest are, though, the world. ember of the company, Miss Minchen Becker, the leading lady, measures three leet in height, and the smallest is Franz Ebert, the jolly little comedian, the top of whose head is only twenty-eight inches from the ground. Miss Selma Goerner, the female star of the Liliputians, is about thirty-one inches tall, but a soubrette of such talent that she has hardly a rival ng her taller colleagues who have won fame as comic opera interpreters. Most of the Liliputians are under thirty-four inches in height. They are clever to a degree that is surprising, and they come to us with rep-utations made in Berlin, Paris, Vienna, St. Petersburg and other European capitals. The singers of the company have admirably trained voices, and the young ladies are handsome, graceful and effective in their acting. There is plenty of good dancing, and an extensive ballet appears in two positions. Gorgeous scenery and prilitant costumes are used, the Liliputians carrying all the accessories with them, which they had prepared by the best artists of the old world at a cost of 150,000 marks. Many weeks ago the management ordered a new set of costumes and scener in Europe, which have lately arrived and

The reign of farce-comedy is not yet over. In fact, from the number of companies that are organizing to present it next season, it is scarcely yet at its height. One of the farcecomedies that has met with more than a usual degree of success is a "A Pair of Jacks," which will be seen, for the first time here, at English's next Friday and Saturday. It was written by H. Grattan Donnelly, whose "Natural Gas" has been such a success, and it is spoken of as containing all the elements that go to make this class of stage productions so popular. What little plot there is in the play hinges on the close resemblance between Dr. Jack and Judge Jack (who constitute the "Pair of of the visitors to Washington, this will be used for the first time on the opening night in this city. "The Pupil in Magic" is a spectacle sprinkled liberally with comic opera and vaudeville features.

It tells an interesting story of the wanderings of a pair of lovers, who journey from Berlin to Paris, thence to the north pole and finally back to Berlin again. Franz

Ebert, the twenty-eight-inch comedian, is described as being a tiny Coquelin, and said to be as successful as Joe Jefferson or

Nat Goodwin in making his audiences laugh. There is enough scenery in "The Pupil in Magic" to fit out three or four Kiralfy spectacles. The Liliputians will give two matiness here—Wednesday and

WHAT THE THEATERS OFFER

World-Famous Little People to Entertain Indianapolis All This Week.

Something About The Liliputians and Their Novel Performance—Another Farce-Comedy
at English's—Dull Outlook in London.

Cialties and musical 'selections, and it is claimed that Manager Havlin's company is one of unusual excellence in this line of work. It includes, among others, the well-known comedians Mr. R. G. Knowles, George A. Booker (formerly of Canfield and Booker), Miss Winifred Johnson, a clever comedient of the company is one of unusual excellence in this line of work. It includes, among others, the well-known comedians Mr. R. G. Knowles, George A. Booker (formerly of Canfield and Booker), Miss Winifred Johnson, a clever comedient of the company is one of unusual excellence in this line of work. It includes, among others, the well-known comedians Mr. R. G. Knowles, George A. Booker (formerly of Canfield and Booker), Miss Winifred Johnson, a clever comedient of the company is one of unusual excellence in this line of work. It includes, among others, the well-known comedians Mr. R. G. Knowles, George A. Booker (formerly of Canfield and Booker), Miss Maud Leigh, Miss Ada Castleton and others. The advance sale of seats for the engagement will begin at the box-office of English's Wednesday morning, and there will be no increase in prices.

The Park this week will have enough sensation to satisfy almost any reasonable person. There will be two attractions during the week. To-morrow night and until ever), will appear in the play called "The need no diagram to show that this is a somewhat extended stage experience. She does various daring things in the play, in which specialties are also introduced. Plain every-day curiosity will, no doubt, impel many to go and see her act. She has drawn very large audiences in other

"The Devil's Mine" is the somewhat suggestive title of the play that is announced to entertain the patrons of the Park the latter part of this week, beginning at the Thursday matinee. Of the numerous sensational plays that have been done in the so-called "popular-price" theaters this season this has been one of the most successful, a fact that can be largely attributed to its strong comedy element. There is enough excitement in it to fill several large thrilling books. There are numerous specialties introduced in the piece, and altogether it is such a one as is likely to prove very "catching" at the Park.

A Dull Season Probable in London. LONDON, April 18 .- It is expected that Parliament will be prorogned about the middle of July, which means an early close of the London dramatic, musical and social season, which promises, from present appearances and past events, to be the dullest experienced in many years. Decreased income receipts from real-estate rents and heavy business losses in many quarters have been the cause for the change for the the usual prosperous and satisondon season, while several of the largest houses, where the social world found joyous entertainment, have been for one reason or another closed throughout the season. The theatrical week has been remarkable only for the production of a few stop-gap revivals, in cluded in which were a series of old-time melodramas. Mrs. Langtry will withdraw Sir Charles Young's "Linda Gray"-the Lily's worst venture in the theatrical line in London-to-night, and will close her theater, the Royal Princess, for the present at least. It is an open question as to whether Mrs. Langtry will reappear again this season. Some persons claim that she will while others assert that if the Royal Princess is reopened this season, it will not be with a play in which Mrs. Langtry will appear. Mrs. Langtry, referring to her failures and future prospects, says that the former have not disheartened her and that she will not allow them to bring about her retirement from the stage; nor will she go to the United States at present, but hopes to reopen in London shortly.

The Marine Band Concert.

There is every element of musical interest in the concerts to be given at Tomlinson Hall, Monday, April 27, matinee and night The national band is in itself a most interesting and attractive feature, and inasmuch as its fame has for years been spread throughout the land, while its playing has heard by but a small portion accomplished pupil Mme. Marchesi ever sent to this country, a really wonderful exponent of this great teacher's Italian method. Mr. Soussa's great descriptive piece, founded on the chariot race in Ben Hur, will be one of the programme numbers. Sale of seats begins next Wednesday, April 22, at D. H. Baldwin's music store.

Gossip of the Stage. There will be "openers" at English's next Thursday night—that is, "A Pair of Bijou Fernandez will probably star next season under the management of C. R. W. D. Coxey will star Sadie Connelly next season in a farce-comedy called "A Hippodrome."

Maud Banks, who has starred for the past two seasons, has been engaged for "The Winifred Johnson, the clever banjoist with "A Pair of Jacks," will sail for Europe next month, to be gone a year. There will be two "Blue Jeans" com-panies on the road next season, one headed by Jennie Yeamans and the other by Laura Burt.

Mrs. Langtry's London experiences this time are somewhat distressing. Grim failure has dogged her heels through several It looks now as if A. M. Palmer will try American plays after the success of "Alabama." He has just accepted A. E. Lancaster's "Lethe's Dream.

Sweeney and Ryland, the Irish comedi-ans, who have been in England for five years, have been engaged to appear in "After Dark" next season. Miss Emma Eames, the young American singer, it is whispered, is engaged to be married to the American artist, Julian Story, a son of William Wetmore Story. A. M. Palmer has accepted a one-act play entitled "Lethe's Dream," by A. E. Lancaster and Arthur Hornblow, for production at the Madison-square Theater next season. King Humbert, of Italy, has written a letter to Mr. Angustus Harris thanking him about a revival of the popularity of Italian opera in England. Lady Dufferin, the wife of Lord Dufferin. the British embassador at Rome, and formerly Governor-general of Canada, will shortly publish a work entitled "My Canadian Journeys, 1872 and 1873." To be fully up to date the truly popular for his labor and enterprise in bringing soubrette must be an heiress to an unexpected fortune. Times change and the soubrette must change with them. Jewel robberies are no longer in vogue. John H. Wilson and Isaac Godlove, scenic artists for Dickson & Talbott, painted s handsome interior setting for the Bernhardt engagement, which was used in the second act of both "Fedora" and "La Tosca." The piece called "A Lucky Man," which was played at Niblo's Garden, New York, last week, is said to have played to gross receipts of $440 in eight performances. There has been some great business at

There is a theatrical manager in San Antonio, Tex., who varies his dramatic pursuits with an undertaking establishment that he owns. In Savannah a manager is one of Uncle Sam's collectors, and in another Georgia town the theatrical luminary is

At the conclusion of the old comedy season at the Lyceum Theater the stock company will go on a brief spring tour. During he summer it will visit the Pacific coast. t will play at some of the large cities, West and East, and will reappear at the Lyceum in November in a new play.

Last night, at McVicker's Theater, in Chicago, Joseph Jefferrson and W. J. Florence closed their second tour as joint stars. Mr. Jefferson will go to his new and handsome residence, in Buzzard's Bay. Mass. Mr. Florence is to spend his summer vacation with Mrs. Florence in Europe. "Madame Helvett," Audran's latest comedy opera success, has just passed its onehundred-and-fiftieth performance in Paris. Charles Wyndham owns the English and American rights. There are very few musical numbers in the opera, its success de-pending almost entirely upon the comedy of the play.

developments." Marion got a divorce from her husband on Friday. Probably that is what she came home for.

"Thou Shalt Not" has made an unmistakable failure at the Union-square Theater. New York, and managers on the road have asked a cancellation of its dates. The press, instead of jumping on it with both feet, faintly damned it, and in future managers will probably not monkey with the sixth commandment to any great extent.

"The Old Homestead," which leaves the Academy of Music, New York, shortly, will be followed by another drama of rural life called "Home, Sweet Home." It is announced that almost every kind of animal known to the farm will be introduced on the scene. Ernest Whitton and John Fowler are the authors of the play.

Some one has discovered that "Blue Jeans" translated means, severally, in New York, "Blue Jeans;" Indiana, "Blue Jeens;" France, "Blen Jeanne;" Germany, "Plue Yahns;" Russia, "Blukovitch Janovitch;" Spain, "Blahestajen;" Norway, "Blusveck Jensen;" Hindostan, no record; Wales, "Bleistedfodeltalanaffdyn;" Italy, "Blaccitaccichechianti." Josph H. Mack has canceled his agreement with MacLean & Prescott, and has engaged Joseph Howarth for a starring tour next season. It is Mr. Mack's inten-tion to produce "St. Marc," with Mr. Howarth in the principal character. This piece was one of the great successes of E. L. Davenport's career, and a great deal is expected from the revival. Julia Marlowe is in almost constant matrimonial demand; that is, almost daily she receives offers of marriage, some of which are said to be of a kind not to be speezed But Julia is wise, and as far as is known is heart-whole, a condition in which she is likely to remain until she has managed to lay by enough to keep her comfortable in her old age. Until then she considers herself engaged to her profession.

In a letter just received by Charles Frohman, Victorien Sardou says: "'Thermidor' has scored equally well in both St. Petersburg and Berlin, although at the latter place it was produced against my wishes. The scene models of the play are finished, and are satisfactory. They are to be shipped to you at once. The details of the play are many, and I am more impressed than ever with the necessity of serious attention and study of them."

The reappearance of the Viennese actor, Sonnenthal, at Herr Barney's theater in Berlin, in "Wallenstein," after twelve years' absence, was made the occasion for a scene of great enthusiasm upon the part of his old friends and admirers who thus welcomed him back to the stage. The prices of tickets for this first reappearance per-formance was higher than for a Patti performance. Sonnenthal is all the rage in Berlin. Critics declare that he is the first living exponent of German drama.

Edward W. Alfriend has just completed a play that has been accepted by Robert Mantell to be presented in New York early next season. He has also signed a contract with Augustus Pitou to write with him a new war drama next season, which is to be the most elaborate thing of the kind yet made known. Mr. Piton will spend $10,000 upon the production. "The Louisianian." another of Mr. Alfriend's efforts, is to be due at a matinee at the Madison-square Theater May 21. Who will say that the American play wright is not forging ahead?

New Members for the Grand Army. A Grand Army man remarked to the reporter that 2,000 members would be added to the roll of that organization this year if the crops were good. "Bad crops," said he,

"have an influence on increase in membership. This year the Grand Army has only held its own, there being only eight members added above the loss of 326 by The reporter asked what effect the Demoeratic burden of high taxation, which would soon begin to be felt, would have. The G. A. R. man shrugged his shoulders and remarked that the chances were that increased taxation would about offset the advantages offered by good crops, and the

Grand Army might remain at a standstill. Differs from Cleveland.

ENGLISH'S

Gratton Donnelly's Festival of Merriment,

Hear R. G. KNOWLES sing "Moses and Aaron."

SEE THE BANJO QUEEN-WINIFRED JOHNSON.

sing, "DO YOU CATCH ON?"

Subdued!

— BENEFIT FOR —

UNIFORM RANK, K. OF P.

OCEAN OF MELODY!

GO-MOHAWK In her Great Border Drama

THIS IS

TO-MORROW NIGHT, Tuesday and Wednesday, Matinees and Evenings,

THE ONLY INDIAN ACTRESS,

Thursday, Friday and Saturday-Matinees and Evenings,

— THE BEAUTIFUL —

Hear the Famous Topical Vocalists, MELVILLE and STETSON, WESTERN ROMANCE,

HEAR WILL ARMSTRONG SING "MY SON." TOTTITIO Everything Built on a Basis of Unalloyed Fun!—Pathos ULVII

INTERPRETED BY AN

UNEXCELLED COMPANY.

ALIVE WITH ROLLICKING FUN.

BRIGHT IT NEVER LAGS. | MERRY SONGS. | IT NEVER DRAGS. | DANCES

POPULAR PRICES:

10, 20, 30c.

PRICES—Gallery, 15 cents; Balcony, 25 cents; Dress Circle, 50 cents; Orchestra and Orchestra Circle, 75 cents.

Seats on sale TUESDAY, April 21.

SPRIGHTLY DANCES!

A CARGO OF MIRTH!

TURN-OVER CLUB SUGGESTIONS.

SPONTANEOUS JOKES!

SPARKLING SONGS!

A Discussion Which Led to Some Rather Incisive Personalities. The "Turn-over Club," a well-known organization of the northeastern part of the city, which meets every Saturday night at the corner grocery to canvass the affairs of the neighbors, celebrated its fourteenth anniversary the other evening. Now and then the club will take up a subject of great scope and calculated to draw out the best thought of the strongest thinkers, but such themes are saved from becoming dry and uninteresting to the general membership by the local allusions and personal references that are drawn out. The other evening the subject was "Transmigration of Sonl." The chairman explained, in introducing the subject, that transmigration of soul was a belief of the ancieut Greeks that when a child was born the soul of some one who was dying passed into the new being that had come into the world. "That accounts for something," remarked one of the members. "You all know B .the meanest man in the wardf Well, when B. was born nobody died.

"I won't say that of J.," remarked another member, speaking of a neighbor who loans money at a high rate of interest. "I prefer to call him a horse doctor. "You've seen a horse doctor go up to horse with all the gentleness imaginable. and look the noble beast fairly in the eve The horse is timid at first, and trembles all over. But as the horse doctor continues to look into the eye the horse gains confidence in the man. The doctor makes a further advance into his confidence by blowing into his nostrils, then he strokes his neck Next thing he does is to jab a lancet into the poor beast and let his life blood run ont. That's the way J. did with me the other day in a real-estate transaction."

AN OLD-TIME BAKE-SHOP.

A Unique Establishment That Will Be Long Remembered by Old Citizens-Mystery in Pies.

A great many middle-aged men of to-day will find the tear of regret obtrusively swelling in their eyes when they recall the old Thompson bakery, which many years ago did a thriving business at the location now occupied by Sherman's Meridian-street restaurant. It was an old fashioned bakery. famous for warm gingerbread and Kronk beer, the latter a purely temperance beverage with a mild flavor compounded of wintergreen and sassafras. What a delightful odor smote the boy's nose as he entered this bake-shop. All the odors from Araby the blest would be as nothing to the fragrance from the freshly-baked loaf mingled with the tantalizing vapors that rose from great trave filled with warm pies and spicy gin-

For many years the Thompson bakery was a popular place for farmers to drop in and get a lunch, but as time went on the place became more fashionable, the cookery became higher-priced and the country trade went elsewhere. The Thompsons were cautious, frugal Scotch people, and the bread they made came into favor because it was unlike the sour bread then made by German bakers. The bakery had no delivery wagon, but sent the bread around to its customers, such as did not come to the shop, in a basket. For a time the entire delivery was made by one person in this way, an elderly man with a large basket filled with warm bread covered with a snow-white cloth, which, as he walked, left trailing behind a most savory

The first Thompson made $36,000 clear money out of this bakery in a few years. He was followed by his brother, who made $30,000, and he, in turn, by a third Scotchman named McFarland, who retired with a like amount. These were all hard-working people, diligent in bus-iness. It is said of McFarland that, getting sewing, ready to stick her needle into him should he fall asleep. He sold some crackers and other breadstuffs to wholesale groceries and all that he collected from this source he deposited as savings, h.s retail and lunch-counter paying all expenses. The wholesalers were of the opinion that his prices were rather high but there were no concessions, his only reply was "That's my price; you may sell them for as much as you please."

It was during this regime that the famous Washington pie was introduced to this community. What it was composed of is now, as then, a mystery, and doubtless ever will so remain. Then there were pies of apple-butter, with criss-cross pieces of crust, giving them the appearance of checkerboards. But the greatest triumph of art was in the lemon pies, which, whatever they were made of, had not the remotest affiliation with the tropical fruit that gave them their name. A succeeding proprietorship brought in other methods of business and a greater range of products. The pies began to take on character and there was no longer doubt or ambiguity as to their contents. Delivery wagons were sent out over the city and fresh bread was delivered at the houses of customers, and finally at all the corner groceries. But alas, all these business methods so admirable in themselves served methods so admirable in themselves served to destroy the pristine glory of the place, and the honest farmer, together with the Kronk beer and gingerbread, disappeared

THE LAST DAY OF GRACE.

A Great Rush Upon the Treasurer's Office by Tardy Tax-Payers-A Needed Improvement.

After to-morrow a penalty will be at tached to all delinquent taxes. During the past week the county treasurer's office has been crowded with tax-payers, and while the clerks, rushed harder than ticket-sellers at a circus, have kept in a good humor and been polite to all comers, there has nevertheless been considerable friction and no small amount of ill feeling among the peo ple who have waited hour after hour for their turn to have their tax receipts made out. Many have given two or three days of valuable time to tax-paying. The suggestion that they should not wait until the last week does not serve to soothe their ruffled feelings, as it is often the case that they cannot get the money together sooner and at last only pay under great stress. It is high time that a new system should be inaugurated in the county treasurer's office, as the same methods now prevail as were in vogne forty years ago, when tax-payers were few. There is no reason why tax receipts should not be made out and be kept alphabetically arranged, to be dated and given to the tax-payer promptly when he calls to pay his taxes. As now arranged the last week is a hurrah, and everything so burried that mistakes are likely to be numerous, and such, probably, is the case.

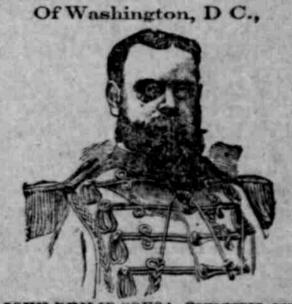

LOCAL ATTORNEYS COMPLAINING.

Changes of Venue to Marion County Becoming Quite the Thing All Over the State.

Indianapolis lawyers complain that the changes of venue taken from other counties to this seriously impede the administration of justice to the citizens of Marion county by adding greatly to the law's delays. Cases are sent here from all the surrounding counties, and not only that, but from counties more remote. Recently a case was sent here from Johnson county which should have gone to Shelby, which is in the same circuit; and this case took nearly three weeks to try. A case was sent here from Rush county which should have been sent to Decatur. Hancock, Boone and Hendricks counties each have separate circuits, yet the Marion county courts have to take care of a great deal of their busi-Jacks"], both of whom visit a seminary and make love to the young ladies. About this there are woven many ingenious complications and some very amusing scenes. It also permits the ingression of all sorts of special introduction and ingression in the single of the playing the really fine playing in the playing of the playing the really fine playing in the playing the really fine playing the really fine playing in the playing the really fine playing the really fine playing the really fine playing the really fine playing in the playing the really fine playing the really fine playing the really fine playing the really fine playing the playing the really fine playing the real of their business. The playing the really fine playing

OF INDIANAPOLIS

Of Washington, D C.,

Mile MARIE DECCA, Priva Donna Soprano from ner Majesty's Opera, England.

The United States Government has given a limited leave of absence to the Marine Band, for the purpose of exhibiting the high degree of musical exc it has a tained in a few special concerts in the principal cities only. Under their own collective sue pices and directions, at

TOMLINSON HALL TWO SPECIAL CONCERTS.

Monday, April 27, 1801

under the charge and management of the following Horace McKay, chairman; Samuel Laing, vice-chairman; Wm. H. Armstreng, George R. Ellis, D. R. Lucas, George W. Spahr, John A. C. F. Myers, R. E. Stephens, A. D. Miller, J. R. Perry, PRICES—Nighi, all over hall, $1, secured in adance without extra charge Matinee-Reserved, $1. Admissions, balcony, 75c. sale commences 9 a. m. Wednesday, April 22, at D. H. Baldwin's Music Store, where all tickets purchased of G. A. B. members at book and drug stores can be exchanged for reserved seat coupons.

SPECIAL EXCURSION RATES On all railreads from all points within 100 miles of Indianapolis will be granted in parties of ten to 100 or more, and special G. A. R. excursions will be or-ganized in all the larger cities to visit the matinee, which will be made a special feature for these parties and desirable for families and children from dress the chairman, 2312 North Funayivania St.

STANDARD

Misses Irma Foerster, Kate Reger

and Richard Schliewen.

TOMLINSON HALL, SUNDAY, April 19. 3:30 p. m. ADMISSION ..... 10 cents.

PROPYLÆUM HALL ART EXHIBIT opens April 15. Largest and finest collection of Oil Paintings and Water-Colors ever seen in the city. Under the auspices of the Indian-apolis Art Association. Exhibit to continue till May 5. ADMISSION-25 ceats.

THE SUNDAY IOURNAL $2 PER ANNUM.